The MISTAKE.

TWO young gentlemen of considerable fortunes, strongly united in friendship, married about the same time; the first year elapsed without any prospect of either having an heir; the faculty were consulted, and every method that was prescribed, tried; Bath, Tunbridge, &c. visited, but without effect, they determined to repeat the experiment, and one season, happening to go late, when the company was so numerous they could find but one vacant room, having two beds, this they determined to occupy rather than return. — The evening of their arrival being very fine, a walk was proposed, but declined by the ladies, as they were fatigued, and obliged to be up early in order to drink the waters, therefore they chose to go to bed. The gentlemen went to walk, and meeting with some acquaintance, staid out late, and when they returned to their lodging, retired to rest as silent as they could; in the morning when they got up, it appeared they had mistaken their beds, and the four remained for a long time silent, the ladies through shame, & the gentlemen from vexation; but each hoped his friend had slept all night, or if not, was sure of having had his revenge; yet fearful of asking questions, lest he should learn more than he desired. At last, one more impatient than the other, began to scold his wife for not going to sleep in the bed which he had chosen for her; she declared she did, or if, he had made a mistake, she was full as much vexed for what had happened as he was; so much the worse, cries he, if both we are all equally concerned. As no person else was informed of the affair, they prudently resolved to keep it a secret. Whether the waters had more effect this time, or it was owing to the first night's adventure, at the end of nine months each lady presented her husband with a son. This occasioned a dispute, each father chose his fortune should descend to his own son, and neither mother was willing to part with her child; but it was at last determined that each child should inherit from his father, therefore an exchange was made.

SALEM, July 28.

On Thursday last, a young Child, Daughter of Mr. Peter Stevens, of Andover, catched hold of a Pitcher of hot Liquor, and poured it into her Mouth and on her Body, by which she was so much scalded that she died the next Day.

In less than an Hour after the above Death, and within about one Mile of the said Mr. Stevens's, two Men were found dead, lying under an Oak Tree, who were both undoubtedly killed by a Flash of Lightning. They were found lying on their Backs, on opposite sides of the Tree, on which hung two Scythes, under the Points of which it is concluded they stood when killed, as appeared by the Position in which they were found. There were scarce any perceptible Marks of Lightning on their Bodies. One of these unfortunate Persons was Mr. John Foster, tertius, of Andover, who lived respected, and died lamented; leaving a sorrowful Widow, Children and Parents, to bemoan his sudden and lawful Death. The other was Mr. Andrew Curtice, Son of Mr. Israel Curtice of Middleton; a young Man highly esteemed, and universally lamented by his Acquaintance.

[Cautions have repeatedly been given in the public Prints, at this Season of the Year, against People who are at Work in the Fields taking Shelter under Trees, when a Thunder Shower arises, more especially against their hanging their Scythes on the Limbs over their Heads, Metal being a certain Conductor to Lightning; by such Imprudences there have been many Instances of Persons being killed.]

This Act is made perpetual.

Here lies
Until the Resurrection,
The Body of
ROBERT SANDEMAN,
A Native of Perth, North-Britain,
Who in the Face of continual Opposition
From all Sorts of Men
Long and boldly contended
For the ancient Faith;
That the bare Work of JESUS CHRIST,
Without a Deed, or Thought, on the Part of Man,
Is sufficient to present
The chief of Sinners
Spotless before GOD:
To declare this blessed Truth
As testified in the Holy Scriptures
He left his Country—he left his Friends,
And after much patient Sufferings
Finished his Labours
At DANBURY,
2d April 1771,
Aged 53 Years.

Deign'd CHRIST to come so nigh to us
As not to count it Shame
To call us Brethren—Shall we blush
At aught that bears his Name.

Nay, let us boast in his Reproach
And glory in his Cross,
When He appears, one Smile from Him
Shall far o'erpay our Loss.

WILLIAMSBURG, (in Virginia.) July 2.

The Storm of Wind and Hail which fell last Thursday night, has ruined many Fields of Wheat, and greatly damaged the young Corn in several Counties up James River, as well as in New Kent and Gloucester; a Number of Houses were likewise thrown down on several Plantations, and Windows broke to Pieces by the Hail-stones, which were remarkably large.

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.

By Capt. Davidson, from Hispaniola, we learn, that Capt. All, in a Brig belonging to Rhode-Island, bound to Cape Nichola Mole, was, on the 24th of June, cast away on the Corcasses. The Vessel is entirely lost, but the Capt. & crew were taken up and carried to the Mole by a Sloop belonging to Providence.—We further learn, that Capt. Johnston, from Georgia, arrived there, and informed Capt. Davidson, that on his passage he spoke a Brig from Jamaica for London, the Captain of which acquainted him, that he saw a Sloop in the Gulph, mounting several Guns, who fired at and brought too three or four Vessels and boarded them: They attempted to board him, but he fortunately got away through the darkness of the night. They appeared to be pirates, as they hoisted different colours.

On the 26th of June, the French General arrived at the Mole from Port au Prince, and declared to the English merchants and Captains of Vessels, that while they conformed to the limitations and restrictions prescribed, the trade carried on by them there, should meet with his protection and encouragement.

Since our last arrived here Captain Lawrence, from Porto Rico, by whom we learn, that there were at that place a number of English sailors, and two Captains, whose vessels were seized by the Spaniards, under frivolous pretences, they imprisoned, and were dying by inches; and that one Capt. Smith, of Antigua, who formerly sailed out of this port in the capacity of a mate, died there in May last by the ill usage of the Spaniards.

——Query, Would it not be better for the British Ministry to employ his Majesty's Ships, who are now poking into every river, creek, &c. distressing the trade of the colonies, to defend and protect the subjects of Great-Britain from the tyrannical gripe of the Spaniards, who are every day seizing some of them?

Capt. Russel, from Dominica, informs, that Admiral Man, with the squadron under his command, the troops and artillery from Dominica, Grenada, and other islands, were arrived at St. Vincents, where, with the assistance of other regiments daily expected, it was said, they were to form a line to keep the Indians in awe, & to stop their communication with the French, who had several times instigated them to be troublesome to the English seated in that island.

Last week were landed at New-Castle, and this place, three hundred and forty passengers, from on board the ship Rose, Captain George from Londonderry.

Saturday last arrived at Newcastle the ship Prince of Wales, Capt. M'Kenzie from Belfast, who landed upwards of 330 passengers, all in good health.

From New-York we hear, that twelve Transports are taken into service there, who are since sailed, part for Boston, and part for St. Augustine, to take on board two regiments of troops, who, it is said, are to rendezvous at Barbadoes;—but what their design is, is kept a secret.

HARTFORD, July 21.

On Tuesday last there fell at Simsbury, a most terrible Shower of Hail, some of it being nearly as big as Hen's Eggs. The Damage done by it is very great—whole Fields of Wheat, Rye, Indian Corn and Grass, are destroyed, and many wealthy Farmers who had fair Prospects of a plentiful Crop in that Place, will have no Harvest this Year. One Mr. Holcomb who had near 40 Acres of English Grain on the Ground, had but one single Blade left standing, and that was under a Tree. Great Damage was also done to the Houses, by breaking Windows, &c.

BOSTON, August 3.

On Monday last Colonel Dalrymple, with the whole of the 14th Regiment under his Command, having embarked on board the Transports lately arrived here from New-York, sailed from this Place with a fair Wind. vid pa. 102

By Farenheit's Thermometer, on Tuesday last, in the Afternoon, the Mercury rose to 91°, and continued there for near an Hour and half.

On Wednesday Afternoon it was at 91° & ½, a considerable Time.

Last Summer on the 6th of August the Mercury was up at 91°. but did not continue above a Quarter of an Hour.

Wednesday several Gentlemen went out in a boat to catch mackrel, and had sailed a little way beyond the light-house, when unluckily the boom knocked Mr. Joseph Howe, tinman, overboard, as he was stooping to haul in his line; the sea running very high, and the wind blowing fresh, by the time they could wear the boat, he was at a great distance from them, and must have been drowned had they not had a small canoe alongside and by that means saved his life; he had sunk twice before they could get to his assistance, and was sinking a third time when they reached him. They carried him ashore at the light-house, and by the means used he greatly recovered in five or six hours.

On Friday Morning died, and Yesterday was buried, at Cambridge, Mrs. Martha Trowbridge, Consort of the Hon. Judge Trowbridge.——She lived beloved, and died lamented, by all that knew her.—Her Husband's Grief on the Occasion, must receive the keenest Edge, from a Reflection on her uncommon Tenderness, and Concern for his Welfare, and Happiness.

By a Gentleman from Virginia, we learn, that a vessel bound in there from Holland was pursued by a cutter, and ordered to bring too, but refused, a barge was manned, and they attempted to board her, but were beat off, upon which the cutter fired upon her, the fire was returned with vigour, but the vessel unluckily running on a bank was seized by the ——cutter. It is said that since this affair happened, the Virginians sent out an armed brig, who gave battle to the cutter, killed twenty of her men and lost eight; but this wants confirmation.

We hear from Coventry in Connecticut, That last Friday 7-night two Houses were struck in that Town by Lightning and considerably damaged; also several Cattle were killed. A Child was struck down in one of the Houses but recovered; the Floor of the House was ript up and the Heads of the Nails melted; but what was very remarkable a Woman that was standing on the Floor had one of her Shoes tore off her Foot, and the Buckle melted, without her receiving any hurt.

Last Saturday Afternoon Capt. Binney arrived here in 16 Days from St. Martins, by whom we learn, That a Fleet of 16 Spanish Men of War, chiefly Capital Ships, and a Number of Transports, lately passed by the Windward Islands bound to the Havanna, but that, on the Evening of the 6th of July last two of them, viz. a Ship of 74 Guns and another of 40, being seperated from them in a Squall of Wind, ran ashore at 12 o'Clock the next Night on the East End of Anguilla, were they both soon after beat to Pieces; but the Crews, consisting of upwards of 700 Men, all got safe ashore, excepting 12 who were drowned;—They also saved what Money they had on board, and a considerable Quantity of very valuable Goods, tho' as it was blustering Weather, many Articles of great Value had drifted from them, which the Wreckers from Curracoa and other Places were very diligent in picking up as free Plunder.—It was not known upon what Design this Fleet was intended.——The Inhabitants of Anguilla took great Advantages of the Spaniards Distress in making them pay exorbitant Prices for the Necessaries they supplied them with, but their Misfortune being soon known at the other Islands, they had plenty of Provisions of all Kinds immediately sent them; and before Capt. Binney came away were about engaging Vessels to carry them, with the Effects saved, to Porto Rico.

Extract of Letter from a Gentleman in a neighbouring Colony to his Friend in this Town.

"I hope that noble Friend to Liberty and his Country, Marchmont Nedham, will take proper Notice of Gov. H's last Speech to your illustrious House of Commons. Men of understanding in this Part of the Country, view the Governor's Speech with Abhorrence and Contempt——as an impertinent sophistical Piece of Toryism——He treats that august Body the Representatives of the People, as if they were ignorant Boys, intirely unacquainted with the Laws and Constitution of their Country!——Surely the Majesty of the People is not thus to be treated, not even by Majesty itself——The Sum of Gov. H's Reasoning and Principles, is this, "The British Parliament is supreme, and has a Right to make Laws which shall bind every Subject in the Colonies as much, to all Intents and Purposes, as if he lived in Great-Britain——and the Colonists have no Liberties but such as they receive, as a free Gift from the Crown and Parliament of England.—That our Situation and Circumstances will not admit of any other Liberty."——This Doctrine is Treason against the Liberties of America, and against common Sense——for it makes every American a Slave——strips this whole People of every Ray of Freedom, and reduces them to a Level with infamous Turks and Spaniards.——He who maintains such odious Doctrines will be regarded as an Enemy to his Country, and justly detested by every Son of America.

"Gov. H. tells the People, that if they are injured by a Governor, they may have their Grievances redressed by applying to the King, who is extremely tender of the Rights of his People, &c. but every one knows, that Experience has contradicted all this. In vain did the People remonstrate against the male Administration of wicked Bernard——In vain have they remonstrated against the vile Commissioners, and the corrupt Courts of Admiralty——In short, not one Petition for Redress of any Grievance has been heard during a long Series of Oppression; and now to talk of obtaining Relief by Petitioning is perfect Mockery——'tis insulting common Understanding.

"We must stand fast in the Liberty wherewith Heaven has made us free; for if we depend upon the Wisdom or Generosity of a People inhabiting another Country, we shall be wretched Slaves indeed.——But I trust the noble Sons of Massachusetts-Bay will forever remain invincible to all the Tyrants of the Earth."

Thursday last a Horse and a Hog were killed by Lightning, at Lexington.

DIED, Mrs. ——Aves, Wife of Mr. Samuel Aves.—Mrs. Jane Carter, Widow, aged 56.——Mrs. M'Cland, Widow.—Mrs. May, Consort of Captain Ephraim May.—Hudson, a Clerk to the ——Commissioners.

At Charlestown, Mr. William Trumball, Son of Mr. James Trumball, aged 25 Years.

At Stoneham, Mrs. Rebeccah Buckman, aged 87, Consort of Mr. Edward Buckman.

At Concord, Mr. Cord Cordis, Keeper of the British House in this Town.

At Plainfield in Connecticut, John Atlin, Esq; formerly an eminent Attorney in Providence.

Thursday se'nnight died at Hingham, in the 30th Year of her Age, Miss Joanna Gay, youngest Daughter of the Rev. Mr. Ebenezer Gay, of that Place.

The 25th ult. a Child about 18 Months old, Son of Mr. Joseph Swan of Dedham, fell into a Tub of Water, and was drowned.

On the 5th July last died at New-Castle in the County of Lincoln, of a violent Fever, Mr. Nathaniel Bryant, an eminent Ship-Builder, aged 35. He has left a sorrowful Widow and three small Children.—His mild and amiable Temper, his Uprightness and Punctuality in his Dealings, together with his great Usefulness in the Town, will make his Loss much regretted by all who were of his Acquaintance.

Messieurs EDES & GILL,

THE Piece which you published last Week in your valuable Gazette respecting the impropriety of appointing Judges and Clerks of Courts, the former being unacquainted with Law, and the latter wholly ignorant of the Practice, Rules, Forms and Precedents of the Courts, met with general Approbation, as it contained the Sentiments perhaps of more than nine Tenths of the Province; but there remains a Grievance which the good People are not yet informed of, and which I hope that Writer, or some other, will not only expose, but enter into the dangerous Consequences that may attend it; I mean the G——r's taking upon himself, to Nominate Clerks of the several County Courts, in Opposition to an Antient Law of this Province, which authorizes the several Justices of the Courts, to Nominate and Appoint their Clerks,—and his E——y may be assured, that in Case a Vacancy happens in the Office of Clerk of the Court of which I am one of the Justices, rather than submit to any arbitrary Mandate or Instruction for the Appointment of a Clerk, two Thirds at least of the Bench will Resign their Commissions.

A Justice of a County Court.

AN ELECTOR 1772, acknowleges he "chose rather to retain" his Marks of Admiration at the Word probably, in T. Hutchinson's Message, than to make the Correction mentioned, timely enough indeed, in Draper's Massachusetts Gazette. PROBABLY was so characteristick of the Message-Maker,—so like his diffident Way, when treating about the PEOPLE's Rights, that the honest Printer's Notification cou'd not convince it was an Error of the Press. A Sight of the Original without an expected ERASURE has at length proved sufficient. No Apology however is due except to the Type-Master, whose Modesty couched in the Word retain has quite entrapped my Affections.

How could I, dear Mr. Draper, help being backward to give you just Credit, when I had all the Prejudice upon my Mind which is the necessary Consequence of having read the following Passage of that same Author T. H. "When an Alteration "is to be made in the Charter, for a new Rule "established in any Point wherein the Charter is "silent, the Acceptance of the People, PERHAPS, "is necessay."

Extract of a Letter from the Country.

"MR. HUTCHINSON's definition of the Province Charter seems to be this, that it is an implied Contract between the Crown as the Grantor of certain powers & privileges, and the Inhabitants of the Colony as Grantees, by which they acquire a right to the use of those powers & privileges, untill the Charter in whole or in part shall be legally vacated." See his late message.—If we enquire what he means by a legal vacating of the Charter, we find in the same message the following assertion. "If your claim from the Charter had been better founded, an act of parliament, which he had before said he need not call to his aid) would have been sufficient to have rendered it of no effect." Hence it appears to be the sense of Mr. Hutchinson, that all the powers which this province hold by Charter are "acquired," or to use another of his terms, "pass from the crown" to them; and, by an act of parliament may at any time be rendered of no effect. Thus he plainly argues; you claim an exclusive right to support your government from the tenor of your charter, & complain that it is now wrested out of your hands by the King's making a certain and adequate provision for my support as Governor, which I readily agree is a material part of the support of the Government: You have nothing more than the shadow of an argument for the support of this Claim; for you are to understand, that an act of parliament, "the supreme authority of the British Dominions which always remains entire notwithstanding" your Charter, may legally vacate or render it of no effect in whole or in part: You must be sensible that an Act of parliament is already made, whereby his Majesty is enabled to take upon himself the whole Support of this Government; therefore your Claim of an exclusive Right, however well founded it may be in the Charter, is by this act render'd of no Effect.—— But will Mr. Hutchinson be pleased to consider "where this argument will carry us"? By the same mode of reasoning, every other power of the General Assembly, even the making laws and statutes for the well ordering and governing the province, the full power and authority to do which is express'd in the Charter, in the very same terms, with those which impower them to impose taxes, &c. for the support of Government, may at any time by a single act of parliament be render'd of no effect; by the stroke of a pen our rights may be all abrogated, and a Colony of Freemen instantly reduc'd to a herd of Slaves. The very being of a Legislative within the province, which is constituted by the Charter, may be thus easily and arbitrarily forever annihilated. The people might then be altogether govern'd by Laws enacted by the British Parliament without their Knowledge or Consent, and taxed by the same supreme authority of the British Dominions, for the maintenance of a set of mercenary Hirelings, whom any future ill advis'd and ill-judging crown'd head, or his rapacious minister, shall think proper to appoint as an executive. Or, the whole legislative, as well as the whole executive, might devolve upon the Governor and seven Counsellors. What a blessed Prospect should we have before us, if Mr. Hutchinson could with all his Eloquence & Address perswade this people to think that their suppliant Ancestors acquir'd their Rights of the mere bounty and grace of a King, and that they now hold them upon so servile & precarious a tenure, as the will of another state!—The doctrine held up, whether design'd or not, is equally calculated to undermine the civil Constitution of every American Colony. I am very glad that the genius even of Mr. Hutchinson, anxious as he appears to be, to establish such doctrine, could not find "the shadow of an argument to support it." His ipse dixit may be authority sufficient for some men; but GOD be thanked! this People are in general too wise to yield an implicit faith in the tenets, or a blind obedience to the dictates of any man, be his station ever so elevated. Our Country has been already too long oppressed! To be insulted in the midst of all, by those who are bound by every Tye which binds an honest man to befriend us, is hard to endure.

This gentleman, in his History of the province of the Massachusetts Bay, speaking of a certain transaction above 100 years ago says, "The government of the Colony, I imagine, will not be thought culpable for refusing entirely to submit to the absolute authority of the Commissioners," (sent into this country to tyrannize over the people in the reign of Charles the second) which, he adds, "would have superceded their Charter." He imagines the government will not be thought culpable. Cautiously said indeed!——How fat a submission to an absolute authority, according to the principles manifestly laid down in his Message, is to be expected at this time, when he allows that the people "have as high notions of English Liberties as their ancestors had," may perhaps be too grate and interesting a subject for his imagination only to play upon, and more suitable for the exercise of serious thought. Possibly a shorter time than is now imagined may determine this matter.—By virtue of that power which may legally vacate our Charter, (an act of Parliament long complained of by Americans in vain, which Mr. H. seems now so ready to call to his aid) the treasure of this people is running plentifully, against their consent, through every channel of trade, into the Chest of the Commissioners of the present time, who were sent into this Country under the pretext of facilitating that trade; and it is applied among various other useful and necessary purposes, for the support of a Governor independent of the Grants and Acts of the General Assembly, whereby he is render'd, in the judgment of the Commons of this province, not such a Governor as the Charter has prescrib'd, and consequently not such a Governor as the People consented to at the grant of it. The Riches thus taken from the American publick, (which is felt at present perhaps by the merchants only from whom it is immediately taken, tho' ultimately from the whole people,) and apply'd for the support of an Executive independent of the Legislative, will in my poor opinion, if persisted in, throw such a weight into the scale of regal Power, or, as is probably design'd, create such a ministerial Influence in the Colonies, as will overturn the Peoples Liberties. Those Politicians, who, for the sake of Places, Pensions and Emoluments, bestow'd upon them at the daily Expence of the industrious Yeomen, Artificers and Merchants in Americas are ready to make the most dangerous Advances towards absolute Power, would do well to look a little forward, and consider, that there is a measure of patience which human nature will not exceed; and that probably, in some time hereafter, how soon GOD only knows! an alarming Scene may open; when an oppressed and insulted People, seeing the Instruments of their oppression riot in the abundant participation of publick Treasures, will be excited to the utmost desperation and revenge, the fatal consequences whereof cannot be foreseen——Instances of this kind so frequently occur in the history of past ages, that one would think even fools, unless to a great degree infatuated, might thereby be taught wisdom". ——— July 24, 1772.
